

In the early years of broadcast media, our leaders wisely decided that the fairest way to apportion licenses to limited airwave space was to forbid one company from owning two broadcast stations in one market.

Given our increasingly diverse population, I believe it is important to enable diversity in our media, and therefore it is important to return to the principle of non-duplicate ownership in a single market.

For this reason, I oppose renewing the license of WRDC and/or WLFL. Both of these stations are owned by Sinclair, and both broadcast within Raleigh/Durham North Carolina. Those of us who live in this area are being denied the broadcasting diversity we deserve.

Sincerely,
Laura Wenzel
